Decorative linen sale.

WE didn't say anything in our Monday announcement about the preparations that must now be made for Thanksgiving and the holidays, but this seemed to be foremost in the minds of the crowds here yesterday, and it is really the main object of our November sale. We have a complete selection of the most wanted linens at prices much lower than most housevives are willing to pay, and of course they will not wait until later, when the handsomest pieces would be gone, and they'd pay more for others not so

These are the values that stimulated unprecedented interest in this sale yesterday:
